RQA

ReQuired Advising

What is RQA?

RQA stands for ReQuired Advisng. It's a new policy requiring students who were newly admitted in Fall 2012 to meet with their advisor. We know how confusing navigating a college degree can be for all students. So:

Freshman and Sophomores

will be required to meet with an advisor once per semester.

Juniors and Seniors

will be required to meet with an advisor at least once per year.

How much time will it take?

You can either make an individual appointment or certain majors can come to a group advising session, and we will have you out in a Flash! To make an individual appointment, call (440) 964-4231 for Nursing and Pre-Physical Therapy Assistant

(440) 964-4252 for all other Allied Health Majors

(440) 964-4217 for all other KSU majors

KENT STATE UNIVERSITY ASHTABULA

Why RQA?

It is easy to get off track in your degree and your advisor is here to help you stay the course and graduate ASAP. It is best not to get advice on your degree plan from your classmates and peers, as the University has different requirements for different degrees that can change from year to year (remember that part about college being confusing.) Your advisor has the expertise to show you how to use the advising tools at your disposal to eliminate the confusion!
